First Nations Child and Family Services and Jordan's Principle Settlement

Was your First Nations Child or Grandchild removed from your care?

If so, you may be eligible for compensation under the Removed Child Family Class.

Free, private support is available. Call 1-833-852-0755 (toll free).

Family Class Members are encouraged to submit their Claims as soon as they are ready. Submitting now gives you more time, less stress and access to free support throughout the process.

You may be eligible if:

- ✓ You are the Child's biological or adoptive parent/grandparent, or First Nations Stepparent
- ✓ You lived with and assumed parental responsibility when the Child was removed
- ✓ Your home was the one the Child was removed from first

The child must be First Nations and:

- ✓ Removed between April 1, 1991, and March 31, 2022
- ✓ Living on reserve or in the Yukon at the time of removal
- ✓ Their placement was funded by Indigenous Services Canada

Foster parents are not eligible for compensation in this Settlement.

Compensation

Payments may be up to $40,000 per eligible Removed Child. Some Caregiving Parents and Grandparents may receive up to $80,000.

Family Class Claims will be reviewed after March 10, 2029. This timeline ensures all families have an equal opportunity to submit a Claim for the same Removed Child. You are encouraged to submit your Claim now. Submitting now ensures your Claim is received and included when processing begins.

Timelines

Adult Class Members must submit by March 10, 2028.

Those who are not yet adults may have longer.

Wellness support

Free mental health and wellness support is available 24 hours a day:
